At the moment I am working on my master thesis on the bidirectional relationships between providers and clients in Smart Grids which is my last obligation from having my degree .I have experience in Web and software development using basic web technologies, such as HTML , CSS, JAVASCRIPT , C , C++ and having the fundamentals of JAVA & REACTNATIVE . I am also highly skilled at communication , organized with a "have-to-do" attitude , which means that all of the tasks entrusted to me are invariably completed on time and to full specification.
